

Death 110

November 8, 2004

James William T. Elliott's (JWTE) and Sara "Sallie" Brown Elliott's (SBE) graves are located in section 2, lot 3, graves southeast 1 and 2 of Hebron Cemetery. As you enter the main gate (the gate closest to the church building) you will travel about 20 feet before coming to a road to the left (west). If you turn down that road and travel to the fifth row of graves on the right, their graves are the first two in that row.

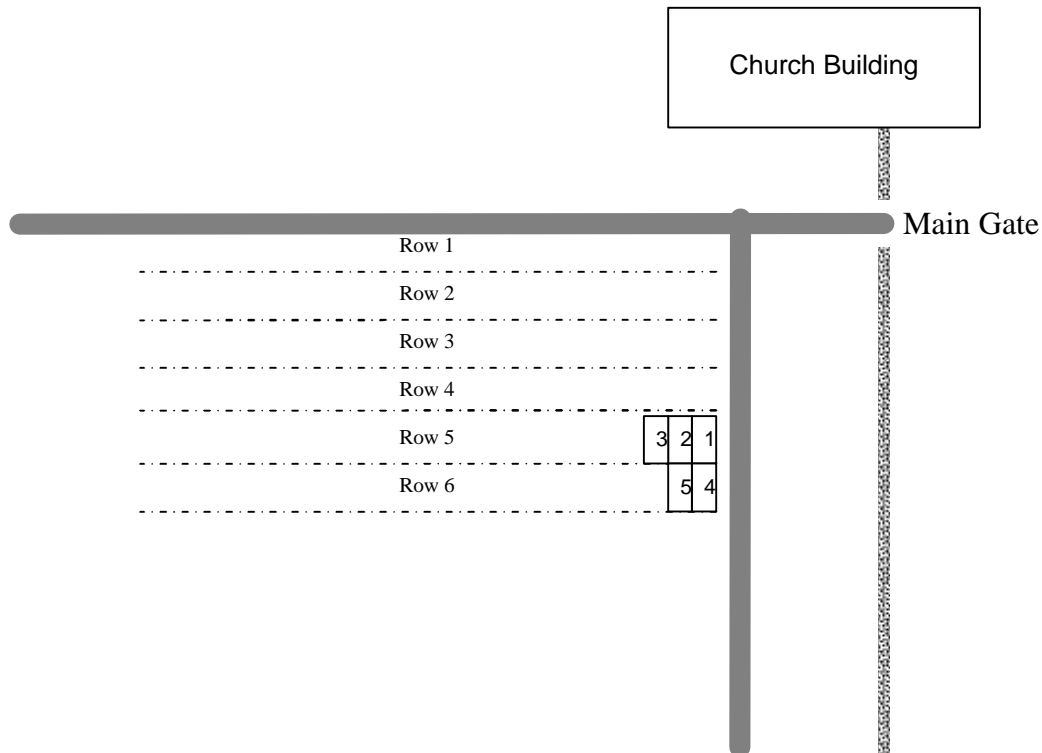

JWTE's grave is adjacent to the road and SBE's grave is the next grave to the north. SBE's grave is bounded on the north by John Bixler's grave and on the west by Ed Haney's grave. On the west of JWTE's grave is a stone engraved "John Ed." Both JWTE's and SBE's graves are unmarked, but are clearly evident to anyone looking because of the depressions in the ground, presumably where their coffins have caved in over time.

The GPS coordinates for both graves are:

SBE: 37.96346 / -84.87561

JWTE: 37.96345 / -84.87562

Note that both of these coordinates were taken with a non differential GPS. Even on the day I took the readings, I was getting readings that were as much as 12 to 20 feet off the actual location I marked.

- 1 – James William T. Elliott
- 2 – Sara Brown Elliott
- 3 – John Bixler
- 4 – John Ed.
- 5 – Edward Haney
